Party Leaders Know Dissolution Is Coming and Are Preparing for Elections - Ger-many Greatly Pleased with the Warmth of the Emperor's Reception in Rome.

Bestan, April 22.—So little interest has been taken by the members in the proceedings of the Reichstag during the week that three times within the past six days the session could not be constituted owing to the lack of a quorum. The House has interest in nothing except in calculating what the result will be in the division on the Army bill. Nobody doubts the defeat of the Government; the question is how many votes Chancellor von Caprivi, after long intriguing with the Centre and National Liberal parties, will be able to bers, three seats being vacant. Out of these the Chancellor relies upon getting the support of 65 Conservatives, 18 Free Conservatives, 41 National Liberals, 17 Poles, and 10 Reichs-partel a total minority vote of 151 against a cialists and other factions. Even should the Chancellor be able to secure the votes of the small number of Catholic dissidents following Huene they would not suffice to avert

The party leaders are accepting dissolution as inevitable, and are assiduous in their preparations for the elections. But for Herr Huene's coquetting with the Chancellor the Centrist leaders would already have agreed upon the form of the electoral manifesto. which has received the adhesion of the bulk of the party. The Freisinnige leaders, who issue their declaration as soon as the Reichstag rejects the bill. The Socialist Committee is first in the field with an appeal to the electors. Their appeal says that the party will demand from the new Reichstag a revision of the law fixing the period of the Legislature at five years. The committee are hopeful that the country will return a largely increased number of Socialists, and they call upon the adherents of the party to put forth their whole resources, to organize rapidly, to subseribe liberally to the party funds, and to appoint candidates in every likely district. They point out he necessity of avoiding the appointment of two Socialist candidates in a district.

The manifesto is another instance of the section of independent Socialists is really of no account.

Ahlwardt's last chance of reflection through Socialist support is gone. Herr Bebel and the other leaders having become convinced of the had faith of the man and the worthless character of his documents. So Ahlwardt will fall back upon the Polish group, who do not encourage his approaches.

The newspapers here abound in glowing accounts of Empergr William's reception in Home. The North German Gassite comments upon the enthusiasm manifested by the Roman peopulace as proof that Italian adhesion to the Triple Alliance is steadfast. The Reichsanseper to-day publishes an official note saying that the Emperor is deeply gratified with the warmth of the welcome extended to him and the Empress by the royal family and people of Italy.

The Germania, the Catholic organ, says it warmth of the welcome extended to him and the Empress by the royal family and people of Italy.

The Germania, the Catholic organ, says it thinks Emperor William might better have remained at home, in view of the political crisis that is menacing even the Triple Alliance. The Germania deplores the Emperor's unqualified support of the Italian monarchy, the origin of which, it adds, must be traced back to the spoilation of the head of the Catholic Church, and the tendency of which is to perpetuate injustice toward the Church. The paper concludes its article by reminding Catholics that Germany is on the eve of an election, and calling upen them to think of the Emperor's hostility to Papai rights.

A reception in honor of Emperor William will be given at Lucerne on May 2. The Bundesrath will give the imperial family a decumer at the Schwerzerhof.

Despite the official confidence in the successful conclusion of the Russo-German commercial treaty the negotiations lag. Russia's counter proposals, made through Count Schouwaloff, the Russian Ambassador to Germany, have proved disappeinting to the Foreign Office, where it is now held to be possible that the negotiations will collapse. It is certain that, if Chancellor von Caprisi should retire, nothing more would be heard of them.

The Bulgarian Government has failed to obtain its required loan of 25,000,000 marks through the Deutsche Bank. While the negotiations were proceeding stories became current that Frince Bismarck authorizes a denial of this report, and says he holds no Bulgarian took. Many of the ceremonies were imposing. Processions with bands and banners were marching by the palace most of the afternoon.

An enormous crowd followed the procession of the Mayors. In response to cheers the King shouts greated them. From 5 to 7 o'clock the deputations following the Mayors filed by the plazza cheering and saluting the King and Queen, who remained in sight until the end of the parade was past.

This evening a gala banquet was given in the Gobeling saloon of the Quirinal. More than 200 persons were present. King Humbert answered in French the toast to him and the Queen. His heart had been filled with not and the Queen. His heart had been filled with not and the gueen. His heart had been filled with not and the gueen. His heart had been filled with not showing him. He wished to thank his brother, the Emperor of Germany, his august spouse, and all the Frinces, relatives, friends, and allies present for having come to Rome to share the delightful emotions of this anniversary. The Queen and he had accepted the kind wishes of all as a token of happiness for themselves and their house and their people. In the name of the Queen and himself he drank to the health of all.

The toast was drunk with enthusiasm while the hand played the Frussian anthem.

Emperer William rose to speak as the band storped tharing. He thanked the King for having given fresh evidence of his personal friendship and of the sincere sympathy uniting the Hallan and German peoples. The enthusiastic homage laid you to-day, he said, sounded in our ears like a heautiful melody inspired by the love of a people for their sovereign. I hoje that frovidence long will watch over your Maiseties and all your royal house for the welfare of both Italy and Europe.

London, April 22.—Albert Hall was crammed to-day with 10,000 people, the eccasion being the anti-home rule demonstration planned by the Unionist Alliance. The spectacle was a most brilliant one. The whole first tier of boxes was filled with ladies in bright summer costumes, and the front platform was decorated with paims, masses of flowers, and ban-ners. The vast assemblage displayed great enthusiasm, and sang "Rule, Britannia," and the national anthem. Among the distinguished Unionists present were the Marquis of Londonderry, the Earl of Arran, the Earl of Ban-

The Duke of Abercorn presided at the meet ing. He said that they were entering upon a deadly struggle. Was everything they held dear, he asked, to be abandoned at the com-mand of the dictator, William E. Gladstone? Here the speaker was interrupted by groans for Gladstone and cries of 'Traitor!" and

The Duke proceeded to say that the verdic still remained with the British people, who sould be trusted to finally reject the abhorrent measure.

The chief feature of the meeting was its aristocratic nature. No representatives of the demogratic element of Ireland appeared. The aristocratic nature. No representatives of the democratic element of Ireland appeared. The speakers were exclusively Irish landlords or dissenters. Even the Unionist press admits that the political importance of the demonstration is small, especially in view of the fact that the principle of home rule has been adopted by Parliament.

Many of the English Unionists would have been better pleased had the Uniter contingent been allowed to remain at home during the excitement of the last two or three days. The visitors not only have made themselves something of a nuisauce to their friends, but also have misbehaved in public so flagrantly as to disgust their entertainers. Yesterday, for instance, some sixty of the Uniter loyallists gathered at the entrance of the House to demonstrate their hostility to Mr. Gladstone. As soon as he appeared they began to hiss and groan. Mr. Gladstone looked up in surprise, then quickened his pace and hastened indoors, while the crowd in chorus shouted "Traitor!" after him.

Belfart, April 22.—One thousand men from Queen's Island shipyard marched through the streets of Belfast to-day singing the national anthem. As the men were passing through a quarter inhabited largely by Nationalists a fight began between the two factions. A strong force of volice interfered to quell the disorder and several arrests were made.

Dunlin, April 22.—The news of the division in the House of Commons has a night on the second reading of the Irish Home Rule bill was received in Armagh early this morning. The Nationalists at once proceeded to hold a celebration in honor of the triumph and paraded the streets with cheers for home rule. The Unionists made a counter demonstration and the two parties came into collision. Shots were exchanged between the advocates and the antagonists of home rule, and several persons were injured in the encounter. It is expected that there will be more rioting.

LAKEWOOD'S POST OFFICE ROBBED

Expert Burglars Crack a Safe and Get $3,000 in Stamps and Cash, LAREWOOD, N. J., April 22.-The big safe in the Post Office at this place was blown open this morning and rifled of about $3,000, of der in cash. Besides this the burglars got several registered letters, two of which contained large sums of money, and one contained two first-class passage tickets to Europe. Besides taking all the stamps the burglars took with them the postal note from which only a limited or had been used. They also book, from which only a limited number had been used. They aiso took with them the official punch, so that they could make the notes convertible. Thus far no clue to the burglars has been obtained. The Post Office here is in the new Times and Journal building lin Main street and Clifton avenue, directly opposite the big Laurel House, where two night watchmen are on duty outside of the hotel. The only man that heard the explosion was directly opposite corner. Leaping from his bed Johnson ran to his window and glanced across to the Post Office. In the glare of the electric arc lamp he saw two masked men at work at the shattered safe. He awakened his brother, Jesse Johnson, and a descent was made to the street. Jesse, who picked up a Colt's revolver, began firing it as soon as he reached the sidewalk so as to attract attention. When the chambers had been all emptied he began shouting fire and murder. Postmaster A. M. Bradshaw, who lives a half a block from the Post Office, had by this time been aroused, and was on the scene just in time to see three men making off. All were too much interested in finding out what had been done in the Post Office to give chase. Capt. Bradshaw, the Postmaster, loses several valuable documents which were in the safe, The loss of money and stampe, it is said, will fall on the Government as Capt. Bradshaw had complied with the law in keeping the supplies in a secure place.

* St. Johns, N. F., April 22.—The scaling steamer Diana, Capt. William Barbour, returned from the seal fishery this morning, having on board twenty-four men, the crew phia with a cargo of sugar, and was crushed in heavy ice in latitude 48° north, longitude 47° 30′ west. A brave attempt was made to save the ship when the danger was first dis-covered. A portion of her cargo was jettisoned, and the pumps were kept constantly going, but the ice was very heavy and forced open her seams. She was abandoned at 8 P. M. and sank shortly after.

The wagon in Astor place, which is called "The Owl," has excited a great deal of curiosity by its odd appearance.

It is fitteen test long, six feet wide, and six feet high, and is complete in its fittings and appearances. It is gaily painted and has a profusion of windows that make it very conspicuous when its lamps are lighted. At one end of this covered wagon, which is a nicely carpeted and spotlessly clean, is a small counter. Behind this stands a white-apponed attendant, who is rendy to serve sandwiches, milk, coffee, hot Frankfurters, cold meats, pies, &c., each for five cents. The wagon is at its stand from S.P. M. to 4 A. M. A number of the wagons are now in successful operation in Boston, Worcester, Hartford, and Fall River.

The attendant in "The Owl" said that he took in over $5 the first night the wagon was opened. Mrs. Robert B. Potter is President, and Mrs. George S. Bowdoin Vice-President of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Church Temperance Society.

THE PROSPECTS FOR WHEAT. Reports from Six States Which Indicate an

ToleDo, April 22.-During the past four days C. A. King & Co. of this city have received re-ports from 3,325 grain dealers and millers, covering every county of the six great winter wheat States, which raise two-thirds of the winter wheat in the Union. This makes the most favorable showing. Two-thirds of the reports say "Excellent." and the remainder eport an average crop. Ohio raises about 40,000,000 bushels per year. Most of the reports note an improvement since April 1, and the average condition is somewhat better than a year ago. The area sown was almost as a year ago. The area sown was almost as large as the previous fall, and very little was winter-killed.

Kansas, which last year raised 71,000,000, or nearly as much as Illinois. Missouri. and Micnigan combined, now has the poorest prospect. It is not much more than haif a crop. The condition is still growing worse.

Indiana reports indicate an average crop. The condition has been improving, but does not average quite as well as a year ago, when they raised 40,000,000 bushels.

Illinois, Michigan, and Missouri now promise less than an average and all about the same. They raised about 25,000,000 bushels last year. Missouri and Illinois show no material change recently, but Michigan has been improving. Illinois and Missouri have a poore outlook than a year ago, but Michigan his only a trife worse.

The Commonwealth is scheduled to run every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday therefter until July 4.

Pending the completion of the Hotel Regent on Clinton avenue, the coach will start on its tri-weekly trips, at 3 o'clock P. M. to the minite, from the Riding and Driving Club, Flatbush avenue and Plaza street. Applications for seats on and after Monday, April 24, may be made at the office of the American District Telegraph, corner of Clinton and Montague streets. The ride will be more expensive than the street in Est. 50, and for the box seat $5. These tickets are not transferable, but it is provided that in case of rain at the bour fixed for starting on the day for which they are booked, the tickets remain good for the following trin.

It is not yet decided who will have the honor of handling the ribbons on the initial trip, or exactly who, will occupy the ten seats as passengers, but it is understood that a delegation of the swellest members of Brooklyn's 400 will christen the new venture and make it sufficiently the 'ad to insure its financial success during the season. for seats on and after Monday, April 24.

The Hotel Eschbach, at 259 Fourth avenue. has been closed. The furniture and all the fixings were moved out on Thursday. The hotel was started more than twenty years ago by Tony Eschbach, and for many years its by Tony Eschbach, and for many years its restaurant has been famous as a chop house. Recently, principally because it was more than a block from Broadway and was out of the line of the theatres and the clubs, it had been losing business. A year and a half ago a new hotel, the New Amsterdam, was begun on the corner of Twenty-first street, and to make room for it ene of the two houses which made up the Eschbach was torn down. Since then the trade of the old hotel has failen rapidly.
